TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES . . .

To underline the importance of good eye health the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the Canadian Council of the Blind, sponsors of White Cane Week, (Feb. 2-8) are devoting this annual education period to sight prevention and blindness prevention. Shown here, Joseph Stapher, who recently went blind, is the first to caution and advise everyone to have regular eye checks. Bert Johnson, field secretary for the CNIB, summed up recently the feelings of all those struck by blindness: "If I had perfect vision for only a minute, even a garbage can would look beautiful." (Courier photo)

Bombs On Biafra Market May Have Killed 300 People

UMUOHIA GU (AP) — A crowded open market in this Biafran village was bombed and strafed Thursday, causing what may be one of the worst civilian casualty tolls of the Nigerian civil war.

Local officials estimated that between 200 and 300 persons were killed outright and hundreds more were wounded. Five hours after the noon raid, youths followed by wailing relatives were still carrying the dead along dusty trails in the bush to their homes.

Nixon's Tour To Cement Ties

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — White House sources said today President Nixon will visit Europe later this month to ensure NATO leaders are solidly behind him before moving toward a summit conference with Russia.

The Biafran information department said it was the second worst bombing incident of the war, the worst being the bombing of a market in Otuocha last year in which an estimated 500 persons died.

STRIKE GROWS
TORONTO (CP) — About 2,000 Ontario Hydro employees went on strike today, the heaviest walkout since workers started a series of rotating strikes last Monday.

VANCOUVER'S CANNON RETURNS BUT IT WON'T BE BOOMING YET

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver's kidnapped cannon has been restored to its emplacement in Stanley Park but it may be about two weeks before its familiar boom rings out at 9 p.m. nightly.

Engineering students at the University of British Columbia, who made off with the 1,500-pound gun Sunday, returned it to its base while a crowd of students and spectators cheered them on.

The students had announced earlier that more than $1,000 had been pledged to charity by Vancouver businessmen as ransom for the gun.

To add excitement to the event, students supervising return of the gun first unveiled a replica of the weapon, then tossed it into Vancouver harbor amid shocked gasps from onlookers. Then the real gun, which had been escorted through downtown Vancouver by motor cavalcade, was set back on its base.

The student prank, which has been publicly criticized by some civic officials, was undertaken to mark the start of engineering week at UBC.

The cannon won't fire for a while because city officials plan to tighten security measures at the emplacement.

BENNETT PRODUCES A 'MIRACLE' BUDGET

CONSTITUTION MEET:

Fiscal Policies 'Must Be Tops'

OTTAWA (CP) — The three Prairie premiers have told Prime Minister Trudeau they will press Monday for adoption of an agenda at the constitutional conference which gives top priority to resolving federal-provincial fiscal arrangements.

Their warning, made in a telegram Feb. 3, threatens to disrupt the conference before it can get under way with the opening statements of the heads of government.

Premier Walter Weir of Manitoba has said he intends to speak before the agenda is dealt with by the conference.

In a letter to Mr. Trudeau Jan. 8, Mr. Weir said he was writing to all other provinces to propose reconvening of the Confederation of Tomorrow conference to discuss fiscal relations with Ottawa.

The first Confederation of Tomorrow conference was held in Toronto in November, 1967. It comprised provincial premiers only.

Correspondence between Mr. Trudeau and the premiers concerning the conference agenda was tabled in the Commons by the prime minister.

Premier Ross Thatcher of Saskatchewan said in a Feb. 4 telegram to Mr. Trudeau that he takes the "strongest objection" to the agenda.

He said federal-provincial financial arrangements should be discussed in detail before amendments to the constitution. Premier John Roberts of Ontario said in a Dec. 9 letter that it was "absolutely vital" that top priority be given at the conference to fiscal arrangements.

He also said methods of amending the constitution should be discussed before the proposed amendments.

Britain Closes In On ECM In Spite Of De Gaulle's 'Non'

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Britain stood a step closer today to its goal of joining Western Europe despite the opposition of President de Gaulle.

It had a promise from five of the six countries of the Common Market to consult on world problems before decisions are made.

Jean de Lipkowski, representing the French foreign ministry, said he would give his country's answer in three months.

"What else could I do," he asked a reporter. De Gaulle has vetoed British efforts to join the Common Market. Britain, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg agreed Thursday not to act on a world issue without talking it over in attempt to reach a common view.

Foreign Secretary Michael

Stewart of Britain said he would begin by inviting ambassadors from all six countries — including France — to talk over the position Britain should take with the United States, the Soviet Union and France on the Middle East.

The invitations are to go out next week. It remains to be seen whether Geoffrey de Courcel, French ambassador in London, accepts.

NIXON WANTS UNITY

The promise of consultations took on special importance in view of President Nixon's coming trip to Europe. Nixon has said that he wants to see Western Europe united, including Britain.

From the European viewpoint, the important thing is the chance for more influence in world affairs in which individual European countries by themselves now have comparatively little.

B.C. BUDGET HIGHLIGHTS

VICTORIA (CP) — Highlights of the 1969-70 budget introduced Friday in the British Columbia Legislature:

Record revenues and expenditures.

Revenues estimated at $1,024,482,425, an increase of $157,770,000 from 1968-69.

Expenditures estimated at $1,024,072,000, up $158,052,000 from 1968-69, largest single increase in provincial history.

No change in tax rates, a balanced budget.

Annual homeowner grant raised to $150 from a maximum of $130 in 1968.

Proposal for amendment of provincial Home Acquisition Grant Act to allow choice of the existing $1,000 grant, or borrowing of up to $5,000 for second mortgages at an interest rate not greater than that on NHA first mortgages.

Per capita grants to municipalities increased $3 to reach $28, giving municipalities a financial gain of $3,000,000. Aid to municipalities will total $573,895,000, an increase of $94,753,000.

Appropriation of $130,000,000 from the province's budgetary surplus to be set up in seven special funds: $25,000,000 for Indian development; $25,000,000, provincial disaster fund; $35,000,000, investment in provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway shares; $1,000,000, physical fitness and amateur sport; $5,000,000, agricultural and disaster aid to foreign countries; $5,000,000 more for the Centennial Cultural Fund; $25,000,000, construction of a major provincial government building in Vancouver.

Expenditures for universities and colleges will total $89,215,000, an increase of $15,520,000, and the government will spend a total of $115,457,000 for all post-secondary education.

Grants to school districts will total $141,000,000, a jump of $21,000,000.

A $Billion Expenditure But No New Taxes Seen

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier W. A. C. Bennett Friday presented British Columbians with their first billion-dollar "miracle budget."

In his budget brought down in the legislature, the Social Credit leader who doubles as provincial finance minister pulled the plug on the government's cash reserves and allotted $130,000,000 for seven "special funds," some of them perpetual.

This was apparently the "1,000-year monument to sound Social Credit administration" that Mr. Bennett has been talking about for the last few months.

In the budget, Mr. Bennett estimated record expenditures at $1,024,072,000 for 1969-70, an increase of $158,052,000 from the $866,020,000 allocated for 1968-69.

The new budget represents the biggest single increase in B.C. fiscal history. Mr. Bennett said the new budget will be "completely balanced" from estimated revenues of $1,024,482,000 with no changes contemplated for the tax structure.

Revenues during 1968-69 totalled $866,712,000. In his budget speech, Premier Bennett described his billion-dollar budget as "a major achievement when viewed from the facts that our population is only 2,043,000 and we have one of the lowest tax rate structures in Canada."

'SPECIAL DIVIDEND'

Mr. Bennett described his plans for distributing the budgetary reserve, which he estimated at $141,231,000, as a special dividend that will "benefit future generations of British Columbians as well as present."

The government plans to allot $25,000,000 for the cultural, economic and educational improvement of B.C.'s native Indians, "albeit the care and welfare of these people is vested with the federal government."

Another $25,000,000 will be set up for a provincial disaster fund and an additional $5,000,000 will go to the Centennial Cultural Fund, bringing its assets to $10,000,000.

The B.C. government will go into the foreign aid field, with a fourth fund, for "agricultural aid to developing countries and world disaster areas" totalling $5,000,000.

The biggest single special fund will be for investment of $35,000,000 in the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway. A $25,000,000 government building fund will help finance construction of a B.C. government skyscraper in Vancouver.

The government will also set up a $110,000,000 fund to aid physical fitness and amateur sports.

Mr. Bennett said the government plans to spend 88 per cent of its new budget, about $897,139,000, in the areas of education, health, welfare, and development of natural resources.

For the second budget in succession, Mr. Bennett has proposed changes to the provincial Home Acquisition Grant Act. Last year Mr. Bennett increased the grant to $1,000 from $500 applicable only to construction of new homes.

This year, the premier says he will ask the legislature to approve amendments that will allow a choice between the $1,000 grant or borrowing up to $5,000 in the form of a second mortgage.

Education Dominant Still

Mr. Bennett said the $5,000,000 would be provided at an interest rate not greater than National Housing Act charges on first mortgage loans. The government also placed another $25,000,000 into the home acquisition grant fund.

Education continues to dominate expenditures. The government will pump an estimated $320,941,000 into public schools, technical and vocational schools, regional colleges, universities and adult education, an increase of $49,834,000 over the last budget.

The province will increase its support from 50 per cent of capital costs of regional colleges to 60 per cent. Mr. Bennett also announced the government now is in a position to finance construction of school activity rooms and gymnasiums "over and above essential classrooms and library construction."

Health and welfare takes another big bite out of provincial revenues, with 1969-70 expenditures calculated at $357,379,000. Regional hospital costs account for $151,613,000 of it.

Per capita grants to municipalities increase $3 to reach $28, giving municipalities a financial gain of $5,000,000. Aid to municipalities will total $573,895,000, an increase of $94,753,000.

The province will also assume the cost of magistrates, saving the municipalities $750,000, and grants to school districts will total $141,000,000, a jump of $21,000,000.

Provincial government expenditures on services related to economic and natural resources development will total $214,286,000 with the biggest chunk, $143,612,000, going for highways and ferries.

The government has allotted an additional $6,500,000 for adjustment of civil service salaries.

Shaw Linked To Oswald, Ferrie At JFK Conspiracy Hearing

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A onetime civil rights worker told the jury at Clay L. Shaw's conspiracy trial he saw Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie together.

The testimony by Corrie C. Collins of Baton Rouge was the highlight of opening testimony Thursday as the prosecution hammered at a major defence position.

Shaw is accused of conspiring with Oswald, Ferrie and others to murder President John F. Kennedy.

Over defence objections, Assistant District Attorney James L. Alcock made no attempt to first lay the foundation for his charge. Instead, he opened the case by summoning five surprise witnesses.

Collins, the fifth to testify, insisted he saw Shaw, Oswald and Ferrie in Clinton, La., in "late August, or early September" of 1963.

'DIDN'T KNOW THEM'

Shortly before, in his opening statement, chief defence lawyer F. Irvin Dymond had told the criminal district court jury that:

"It is our intention to prove to you that not only did Clay Shaw not engage in conspiracy, but that he never knew nor laid eyes on either Oswald or Ferrie."

Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, was named Kennedy's killer by the Warren commission. The report said he operated alone, with no credible evidence of a conspiracy.

In opening, District Attorney Jim Garrison told the jury the state would show the president "was struck by a number of bullets coming from different guns at different locations—thus showing that more than one person was shooting at the president."

The district attorney thus served notice that the Warren report would be, in effect, a co-defendant.

HE HAD THAT SINKING FEELING

John Bland had a sort of sinking feeling when the truck he was driving suddenly fell through the pavement shortly before 10 a.m. today. The pavement, and apparently the sewer line beneath it, collapsed under the CPR delivery truck in the alley between Bernard Avenue and Queensway close to Pandosy Street. City officials are still not sure what happened and could not comment today on what will be done. The truck was pulled out of the hole by a city grader. (Courier photo)

Premier Oldrich Cernik today said his Czech government will introduce far-reaching legal changes aimed at ensuring democratic rights and freedom. He told a news conference the preservation of these rights is one of the main tasks of the government, the Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported. The government plans to submit bills to the Federal Assembly to amend the right of assembly, association, and freedom of expression and ensure independence of judges, he said. Cernik repeated earlier government pledges that no one in Czechoslovakia would be persecuted for holding views different from those of the government of the Communist party.

A tongue-in-cheek question asked in the Commons by Robert Muir PC has produced "a barrage of mail" from Britanny. Mr. Muir had asked Prime Minister Trudeau to consider inviting a delegation from Britanny to Canada. "Since le Grand Charles de Gaulle doesn't seem to mind embarrassing Canada or the Canadian government or Mr. Trudeau, I thought it would be a nice idea to have them over," the Cape Breton MP said with a grin. He said he has had 15 or 16 letters from the French province, as a result. "They state that there are mayors of five or six cities who are prepared to come over and talk about people being arrested in France. They would like to have conditions in Britanny just about one-half as good as they are in the province of Quebec," he said.

Hungarian Communist chief Janos Kadar was greeted on his arrival in Moscow Thursday night by Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, looking hale and hearty in his first public appearance since Dec. 20.

An article in The Spectator of London says Prime Minister Trudeau's main problem is that "he appears to speak first and to consider the consequences later. And most of his gaffes have this impulsiveness in their source," writes Morag Alexander, reporting from Canada to the weekly magazine. Alexander says that "Trudeau's performance in London at the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference has left Canadians feeling slightly embarrassed."

The cougar belonged to David Hancock of Victoria, who was promoting an appreciation of wildlife. ## Pueblo 'Cover' Gives Evidence CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The senior oceanographer aboard the Pueblo, a civilian, says one of his assignments was to serve as a cover for the U.S. intelligence ship.

In fact, said Dunne R. Tuck, when the first North Korean gunboat appeared on the day of capture he began lowering water-testing bottles over the side "to show the North Koreans why we were there."

But when the Koreans began firing, the ship's skipper, Cmdr Lloyd Bucher, shouted: "Friar Tuck, get that damned gear up here, I'm leaving."

Tuck, 31, of Richmond, Va., told a naval court of inquiry Thursday that making hydrographic tests—obtaining samples of ocean water for analysis—was one of the main parts of his assignment. But, said Tuck, his orders were to handle his work "on a not-to-interfere basis" with the main surveillance mission of the ship, which Bucher has described as watching Soviet vessels and North Korean radar.

"It was one of my missions to serve as cover for the ship, to show that it was an oceanographic ship," he added.

Calona Brandy 'Sleeping Well'

Calona Distillers Ltd., an industrial newcomer in the Okanagan Valley, has produced 60,000 proof gallons of brandy during the past year and it is aging in 40-gallon oak barrels at the distillery, just north of Kelowna.

The brandy will 'sleep' in barrels for two years, acquiring the traditional flavor and bouquet for which brandy is famous. A total of 100,000 gallons, two years' production, is now maturing at the distillery. The brandy now maturing will be ready for consumption in 1970. It may be marketed under the well-known Calona name, in a new venture for the Okanagan wine industry.

C of C To Close Four Meetings To News Media

The Kelowna Chamber of Commerce executive voted unanimously Thursday to hold quarterly meetings in committee, that is, closed to the news media and public.

A motion brought forward by director Sid Hodge gained approval from all directors.

"While we should have most of our meetings open to the press," Mr. Hodge explained, "there are some items of business we might like to discuss in private."

He had some people on the executive tend to be "nervous" about some topics at an open meeting. The dinner meetings would be held once every three months.

The directors approved a plan to put all its members on a calendar year basis for paying dues.

President Gordon Hirtle told the executive that excellent co-operation has been established with Pentiction on the question of co-ordinating Kelowna's Regatta with the Pentiction Peach Festival.

Speaking of a recent get-together of chamber and city representatives from both areas, Mr. Hirtle said, "This meeting proved to be the first time in 14 years the Regatta Association and the Peach Festival Committee have co-operated to this extent."

The two events always run close to each other, but in 1971 will overlap for three days, Mr. Hirtle told the directors. He said the result may be beneficial.

New Investigation Program By UIC Proves Success

An increased investigation program conducted by the Kelowna branch of the unemployment insurance commission seems to be meeting with favorable response.

A press release from the UIC indicates the program is resulting in a better understanding of the requirements for completing claims correctly.

The Kelowna office reports 40 cases of disqualification or 11 per cent of the total cases investigated. This includes 16 cases of overpayment amounting to $800. Results of the investigation are encouraging, the office said.

In the area served by the office there were 6,200 active claims, an increase of about 1,700 from December, due mainly to the seasonal lay-off in packing and fruit processing plants.

The unusually inclement weather was also a contributing factor, especially in the construction business, and the labor dispute at Brenda Mines resulted in a large number of claims filed, according to the release.

Continued co-operation from insured workers, unions and employers in supplying information regarding individuals who they consider ineligible for insurance, is partially responsible for the success.

Popular, Colorful Map Again Planned By Jaycees

The tourist information map, produced by the Kelowna and District Junior Chamber of Commerce will again be available this year.

Jaycee president Wilbur Wostrowski says the map, traditionally the largest single money-maker for the club, will be out May 24, and 50,000 copies will be ready, about 10,000 more than went to tourists last year.

The maps are distributed by the senior chamber of commerce. Currently the club is taking bids from artists for the map and plans call for blow-up views of Rutland, Shops Capri, South Pandosy and possibly Peachland, as well as Kelowna.

The club will approach retailers this month attempting to sell spots on the map and it should go to the printers by March 15.

In 1962 the map was first put out with 15,000 copies printed; two years later publication had reached 25,000 and in 1966 30,000.

Contest To Help Campaign Against One-Eyed Monsters

Success appears near in Kelowna Mayor R. F. Parkinson's campaign against one-eyed monsters, vehicles with a headlight or tail light burned out.

For several years the mayor has waged almost a one-man war against motorists who neglect the lighting systems of their vehicles.

Action is coming now from station operator Peter Ratel, a director of the Kelowna zone of the Automotive Retailers' Association.

The mayor's most recent plea for co-operation came early last month and the council wrote to Mr. Ratel to see if the automotive group would instruct service station attendants to check the complete exterior lighting system of each customer's vehicle.

Mr. Ratel decided a contest between city service stations would be the best plan and he has put up four prizes to get a contest operating until the end of March.

He said the automotive association shared the mayor's concern about one-eyed monsters and regretted the recent cold weather hampered earlier implementation of the plan to interest all retail outlets in replacing defective head and tail lights.

He is offering four $30 automotive vacuum cleaners, which operate from car cigarette lighters and which can be used for inflating air mattresses as well as vacuuming.

Mr. Ratel's plan is to challenge all outlets to see which one can sell the most seal-beam units by March 31. He feels his firm can outsell any other service station in Kelowna, but the prize stands for the station which tops the sale contest.

He suggests the stations collect the box tops from each seal-beam unit sold. Wholesale suppliers will be notified of the contest, so their salesmen can follow-up the plan and arrange to collect the box tops when the campaign ends.

Mr. Ratel suggests each service station attendant write his name on the box top and that one vacuum cleaner go to the manager of the winning station, one to the attendant selling the most units and two to motorists.

Mayor Parkinson has welcomed the contest, saying he is pleased about the possibility of co-operation between city service stations.

Cloudy weather is forecast for Kelowna Saturday. Cloudy with a few snowflurries today and Saturday. Winds should be light and it is expected to be milder tonight. Low tonight and higher for Saturday in Kelowna are forecast for 20 and 35. The high and low recorded in Kelowna Thursday were 27 and zero, compared with 39 and 21 on the same date one year ago.

No Injuries In Accidents

Three traffic accidents were reported in Kelowna overnight, but none of them involved injuries.

William Aynsley, 461 Cadder Ave., and H. N. MacPherson, Winfield, were drivers in a two-car collision at Bernard Avenue and Ellis Street Thursday at 8:50 a.m. Damage was estimated at $125.

A two-car collision on Ethel Street Thursday at 3:30 p.m. involved Grant Walker, 1547 Highland Dr., and Raymond Perra, Glenmore Road. Police estimated damage at about $200.

Another two-car collision occurred at 8:10 a.m. today on Sutherland Avenue. Drivers were Nick Bulach, 1802 Bowes St., and John Weingardt, 211 Bernard Ave. Damage amounted to about $110.

CITY FLOAT READY FOR VERNON

Ah, to be in Centennial Sam's shoes. Actually, Kelowna's beautiful Lady of the Lake, Marina Maundrell will exchange her place on the City of Kelowna float with Dianne Wilson (filling in for lady in waiting Val Paul because of illness). Kelowna's Lady of the Lake will provide Okanagan residents with a glimpse into the future Saturday at 11 a.m. during the Vernon Winter Carnival parade. Miss Maundrell will "fly" the parade in a two seat sports model hovercraft. (Courier photo)

Just Delay Few More Days Be Ready To Get In Line

Shop early, don't be disappointed... avoid the rush. That's the advice being given by the people from whom you will have to buy a 1969 licence plate sometime before midnight of the last day of this month.

If the current trend continues, licence plate sales should increase in most or all categories. As of Jan. 31 the sales were: Passenger vehicles 2,788, compared with 2,574 in 1968; commercial vehicles 369, compared with 366 in 1968; and 90 farm trucks, compared with 64 in 1968.

A Rutland office will open Feb. 17 and will maintain the same hours as the Kelowna office—9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Both offices are closed during lunch hours.

The Rutland office will accept only renewals and those wishing to obtain new plates must present the forms sent them by the motor vehicle branch in Victoria.

Bert Manson, the government agent for Kelowna, strongly advises residents to obtain their plates early and avoid cumbersome line-ups and the late rush. He said there is always a great rush at the end of February and those who leave it too long could have a long wait in store.

Winter Tires Or Chains Needed On Most Highways

Highway 97 in the Kelowna area was bare and dry in the department of highways road report of 7:30 a.m. today.

Identical conditions existed north of Vernon which had some slippery sections. The Fraser Canyon was in good winter condition and winter tires or chains were necessary, as they were on most roads in the province.

Kamloops-Salmon Arm - Revelstoke road was mostly bare with some slippery sections and sanded. The Rogers Pass was in good winter condition and the slippery sections were sanded. There were some drifting conditions at Scott Lake.

The Allison Pass had compact snow and sanding was in progress. The road was in good winter condition.

The Kelowna-Beaverdell and the Big White roads had compact snow with some slippery sections. Winter tires or chains were necessary.

The Vernon - Lumby - Cherryville road was bare and in good winter condition. Cherryville-Monashee Pass had some compact snow and some slippery sections. Sanding had been completed and winter tires or chains were necessary.

SEEN and HEARD

Dale Hooper has appeared on a few stages in his day, but is now wondering if he should seek danger pay before continuing his theatrical career. While rehearsing a fight scene recently for the upcoming production of Showboat he suffered a cracked rib. Don't ever audition for the lead in Julius Caesar, Dale.

Prof. Maurice Skones, director of the Choir of the West, from Pacific Lutheran College, Tacoma, Wash., gave a Kelowna audience different treatment than they are used to Thursday night. The usual procedure for a director is to speak to the audience between numbers. But Prof. Skones said not a word throughout the performance. He turned to the audience only to take his bows.

A struggle for survival is daily taking place at the Kelowna RCMP detachment headquarters. Main figure in the struggle is a plant, a tropical plant of unknown variety. Usually this piece of greenery, which graces the front office, is bright, erect and full of life. But now, maybe because of winter, it is drooping, its leaves tinged with brown.

The parent-teacher interviews held at Kelowna Secondary Wednesday were most successful, says principal Peter McLoughlin. Parents of about 350 students attended and some even brought their younger children to sample the goodies served by chef de cuisine Rudy Kraft in the school cafeteria open in the afternoon and in the evening for their convenience.

Part of what is wrong with the world today may be that many people have forgotten all about good manners. Not too many years ago strangers actually spoke to other strangers on the street, people held doors open for each other instead of letting them slam in the face of the following person and some drivers actually paused for a moment to let a fellow motorist get into the main stream of traffic from an alley. Wednesday a young man held the door of a dry cleaners open for a woman, who walked in without a word and actually looked at the man as if he was a masher.

POWER OF PRESS STILL HOLDS TRUE

The old adage about the power of the press still holds true.

On Jan. 27, the Courier ran an item after receiving a letter from a Biggar, Sask. woman who reported finding a man's wedding ring on the Kelowna City Park beach in 1959.

Mrs. Walter Hobbs of Kelowna could remember some friends of hers who lost a ring similar to the one reported. Mrs. Hobbs wrote to Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, now residing in St. Helena, Calif. The ring found was most definitely the one they lost in 1949 in Kelowna.

Mr. Clark taught school in Rutland and was married March 8, 1949 and that summer while swimming he lost his ring.

It took nearly 10 years for the ring to wash ashore and 10 years for the finder to report it, but better late than never.

FISHERMAN'S CHOICE

Steve Stavens was re-elected by acclamation Thursday to his 24th term as president of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union in Vancouver.

MAY BE SAME IN 1971

Regatta, Festival Dates

The Kelowna Regatta and Pentiction Peach Festival may run at the same time in 1971. This was one of the dozens of details discussed Thursday night at the Kelowna International Regatta Association executive continued a busy planning program for the Aug. 6 to 9 water show. Recently Regatta and Peach Festival officials met to discuss possible date conflicts in the 1970s and other areas of mutual concern. They agreed on different dates for this year and next, but there appears a good chance the two summer productions may run head-to-head in two years.

Regatta director-general, Dick Gunoff will organize a Kelowna committee, consisting of representatives from the Regatta executive the city and the chamber of commerce, to meet with a similar group from Pentiction. There are indications the two festivals might be run on the same dates as an experiment, with joint co-operation on such things as parade entries and promotion.

Alice Runnalls has been appointed director of the vital entertainment committee, with Jack Pritchard her deputy. The committee is in charge of the Ogego-Stadium-night show, as well as free day shows in the City Park Jubilee Bowl.

A big contingent of Regatta officials will head for Vernon

KMP And KLT Plan Programs For The Regatta

The format has been set for an action-packed, four-day Kelowna Regatta, which will actually start two days early.

Much of the routine for the 63rd edition of the annual Regatta (Aug. 6 to 9) will be the same as in past years, executive members decided Thursday, but for the first time the Community Theatre will be used, beginning on the Monday night of Regatta Week. Kelowna Musical Productions and the Kelowna Little Theatre are joining forces to produce shows for the Community Theatre for the Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of the Regatta. This will be in addition to the normal coronation nights and traditional night shows.

Several possible changes were considered by the Regatta association Thursday before members decided to have the Community Theatre events run from Monday to Thursday; have the parade Wednesday, followed by the crowning; with three nights of professional entertainment from Thursday to Saturday.

There was talk about running the Regatta from a Saturday (Aug. 2) to the next Saturday (Aug. 9) and having the coronation of the Lady of the Lake the first Saturday, or even as early as July 1, but both ideas were rejected.

Following the Wednesday parade, probably at 6 p.m., will be the crowning of the 1969 Lady of the Lake, involving a professional coronation production.

Headliner entertainment will be obtained for Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with last year's idea of a low-budget Thursday night show being junked.

Publicity chairman Al Jensen said running the Regatta from one Saturday to the next could present problems because the first Saturday was the last night of the Pentiction Peach Festival and the date for the Kelowna summer hockey game. But, he said if the Regatta was to begin on the Monday, with activities in the Community Theatre, the Lady of the Lake should be crowned earlier, possibly the Sunday afternoon, so she could appear on stage at the Monday night theatre production.

The idea of holding the crowning July 1 was formally proposed and rejected.

Director Pat Moss said whatever the executive decided, the "real Regatta starts with the parade Wednesday."

Briefly, directors discussed the annual problem of the merits of local talent compared with professional entertainers and later decided to go with the pros. There was also concern expressed about hot weather affecting attendance at the theatre.

Man Who Obtained Lodgings Fraudulently Is Remanded

An Edmonton man was remanded in custody today until Feb. 14 after he was convicted of obtaining lodgings fraudulently.

William McLaughlin was recently arrested in Edmonton and charged with leaving a motel bill at a local motel in May, 1968. A probation report is being prepared before the man is sentenced.

Two youths were convicted today of possessing liquor while being minors. Robert Jamrichko and Richard Trembley, both of Kelowna, were both fined $50 after pleading guilty to the charge.

Alfred Harbison, Kelowna, elected trial by judge without a jury on a charge of uttering a forged document and possession of stolen property. He was charged Jan. 27 with cashing a stolen bank money order.

Andre Legault, Kelowna, was remanded without plea to Feb. 14 on a charge of common assault.

A charge of speeding against Ralph Hermansen, Kelowna, was remanded to March 7, while two witnesses from Ottawa are brought here. He has pleaded not guilty to the charge.

As a possible attraction for the Thursday to Saturday night shows, Mr. Jensen suggested contacting the CBC to see if the Tommy Hunter show could be staged here. He said the cost would be much lower than usual for a comparable act and with a cast of 17 there would be a different show each evening, along with the traditional water events and exhibition diving.

Director-General Dick Gunoff said if the Hunter show couldn't be obtained there must be plans made for alternate entertainment.

Frank Addison recommended against a "poor Thursday show," saying professional acts can be obtained for three nights at not much more cost than for two evenings.

Thursday will be children's day at the Regatta, with a morning children's parade and half price rates in effect during the afternoon at the midway. The finance and promotion departments will discuss the possibility of having tickets distributed to children in grades 1 to 7.

Chinchillas Go On Show

The 13th annual Chinchilla Show will take place Saturday at Kelowna in the Aquatic.

Judging will start at 11 a.m. and will continue during the day. Judges will be E. W. Heldt of Everett, Wash., and H. C. McIntosh of Vancouver.

The show concludes with a banquet in the Aquatic lounge, at which the awards will be presented. The public is invited to attend the show.

Three traffic accidents were reported in Kelowna overnight, but none of them involved injuries.

William Aynsley, 461 Cadder Ave., and H. N. MacPherson, Winfield, were drivers in a two-car collision at Bernard Avenue and Ellis Street Thursday at 8:50 a.m. Damage was estimated at $125.

A two-car collision on Ethel Street Thursday at 3:30 p.m. involved Grant Walker, 1547 Highland Dr., and Raymond Perra, Glenmore Road. Police estimated damage at about $200.

Another two-car collision occurred at 8:10 a.m. today on Sutherland Avenue. Drivers were Nick Bulach, 1802 Bowes St., and John Weingardt, 211 Bernard Ave. Damage amounted to about $110.

Water Street west to the City Park, for a gateway to the Regatta, Roger Tait said only some businessmen in the area had been contacted, but "the general impression was enthusiastic."

A group of Kamloops skydivers, highly-skilled parachute jumpers, has offered to perform during the Regatta. The group is the only nationally-sponsored sky diving team in Canada and would perform a mass high-altitude drop.

Approved was the first of a series of proposals to come from Roger Tait's grounds committee. A car show, featuring wild custom creations and stately vintage vehicles, will be staged in the City Park tennis court area, if all required arrangements can be made by Mr. Tait's sub-committee chairman. Mr. Tait said his committee planned a wide-variety of attractions to provide something for everyone and the car show idea was just the first to be considered. His prepared report said all attractions would produce revenue for the Regatta, in the case of the car show, not by charging admission, but by charging exhibitors. Mr. Tait's report suggested a $100 sponsor's fee and said co-operation from the Checkers Car Club and the Okanagan branch of the Vintage Car Club of Canada would be essential to make the plan work.

Mr. Tait was complimented for his detailed report and other executive members were asked to use the same report format to avoid lengthy meetings, such as Thursday's, which lasted three and a half hours.

Dianne Wilson, last year's Miss Gyro, has been officially designated the lady-in-waiting to Lady of the Lake Marina Maundrell. Miss Wilson will fill in for Val Paul, who is sick.

Donna Harney, director of royalty, suggested the lady-in-waiting position be disbanded if she was not given a greater role. Miss Harney didn't suggest taking the lady-in-waiting everywhere. The Lady of the Lake went, but to have her more active locally. Both will be in the Vernon Winter Carnival parade Saturday.

The next Regatta meeting will be to Feb. 20, but since many executive members will be on the Spokane trip, the date has been moved ahead to Feb. 27, meaning there will be consecutive meetings at the end of this month and the beginning of March. The meetings are being held more frequently this year, as director-general Gunoff tries to get things done earlier and involve many more people in Regatta planning.

Short Takes

Reports that President Nixon's visit to Europe will take place within a few weeks should be taken with caution as it would be unusual for an American president to go travelling so soon after his inauguration. Yet it would not be surprising if Mr. Nixon decided to move quickly. Few presidents before him have entered office so fully versed in foreign affairs. Apparently his first concern will be with personalities in NATO. This is advisable, as from April members can give a year's notice of intention to withdraw. But it may be hoped that the suggestions he is in a hurry to build bridges with President de Gaulle are misplaced. General de Gaulle would take a visit from the new president of the United States as a proper deference to himself as the senior statesman of Europe, but there is scant sign it would alter his attitude to NATO or to anything else—whether Israel, British entry into the Common Market, Quebec, or even the gold standard. Certainly Mr. Nixon's presence in Paris at this stage would seem too early to clinch any promising negotiations with Hanoi.

Strange that men call money "dough". Dough sticks to your fingers.

The city is changing the parking regulations on a number of downtown streets. Some go from two hours to one and some go from unrestricted parking to one hour. The move may have some merit but it certainly will have some drawbacks for a great many people. Some of the streets are too far from Bernard Avenue to accommodate shopping parking; one hour is just not long enough. A two-hour limit on these streets would have served the purpose of moving the day-long sleepers, yet at the same time have provided shoppers with parking areas they could use. Council in its wisdom decided against this. We could be quite wrong but we see these streets—Doyle and Leon, for instance—having lots of parking spaces available simply because the one-hour time limit does not allow for their use by shoppers.

The decision regarding the Kelowna federal building which will house the new post office has been finally cleared away and construction will take place in the early spring it is now hoped. At least so an announcement out of Ottawa said on Tuesday. The new plan calls for two buildings, a downtown post office and a mail handling building in the industrial area on Highway 97. This step has been taken because the post office could see traffic problems ahead if the whole operation was confined downtown. It is encouraging that the PO is looking ahead and planning to build to handle Kelowna's future growth.

Speaking of the local post office, the present building was built in 1937 and was opened about May in 1938. It was considered "something" then and quite adequate for the town which then had about 5,500 people. At that it was a vast improvement over the old premises where Ribelin's photo store is now or next door to it. That was a post office! In '38 it surely indicated to a young whippersnapper from the east that he had arrived in a frontier town! With any luck, we'll have seen three Kelowna post offices in our time.

Still speaking of the post office, but in general this time. We have a sneaking sympathy with the mailmen who do not want the new-fangled regulations about five-day, straight-through mail delivery. This means there will be no Saturday mail delivery and the PO will be relieved of hiring the extra men needed to sub for the posties on their days off. It will also mean that on the other five days the posties will work straight-through and not return to their base at noon to have lunch and pick up the afternoon mail. Whether or not they are to have any lunch and where, has not been clearly outlined. They do not like this new idea and one can't really blame them. Of course the taxpayers are going to save $13 million—hopefully—a year, but our guess is that the mail service will deteriorate. No Saturday delivery will not be convenient but then, if memory is right, we did have it during the war and lived. But this is peacetime and the post office service which has been pretty darned good over the years, does seem to be giving up convenience for the public to saving dollars. Well, maybe Kierans is right.

This year has certainly started out well as far as construction is concerned and that activity is considered a barometer of the vitality of a community. In the city and district in January permits for $1,120,000 building construction were issued. This was better than 40 per cent higher than January a year ago. It would seem that the Kelowna area's growth is not slowing up.

The year-end housing figures as announced by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation indicate that Kelowna is still ranking high in dwelling construction in this province. In construction starts in 1968, in completions and in the number of dwellings under construction at the end of the year, Kelowna ranked second to Prince George outside the Victoria and Vancouver metropolitan areas. However, during 1968, housing starts were down 105 in Kelowna while the number under construction at December 31st was down 50. On the other hand there were 18 more under construction than there were a year ago. In 1968, Kelowna had 260 starts and in the year 315 houses were completed and 98 were under construction at the year end. The figures for Kamloops in the same order were 135, 161, and 42; Nanaimo 30, 83 and 15; Penticton 188, 192 and 65; Prince George 351, 346 and 149; Vernon 82, 139 and 25.

Hon. P. A. Gagliardi stated in a speech in the Legislature that "for every dollar in revenue it takes in from liquor, the government must spend $10 to counter the effects of alcohol on society." Well! We did not know the government's anti-alcohol program was that extensive. The government makes something better than $50,000,000 in profit from liquor every year. The round-figure will do. If Mr. Gagliardi's statement is true, the government's anti-alcohol program costs $500,000,000 a year. That's half a billion and the government is boasting this year of a billion dollar budget for the first time. If Mr. Gagliardi is right, Victoria should take a look at the policy of spending half its budget on one project. Of course, there is the possibility that Mr. Gagliardi was just sounding off, making the thing sound good without any relation to fact.

Smugglers' Trade Old Hat As Far As Hong Kong Sees It

HONG KONG (AP) — Smuggling has been a part of Hong Kong's history since before the island became a British colony in 1841.

The great clippers which brought opium to China and precious tea back to England are gone, but smuggling continues as a characteristic of Hong Kong with its main traffic in narcotics, gold and silver.

Hong Kong is one of the busiest ports in the East. An average of 70 vessels enter and leave the colony each day. The men who are charged with searching the ships, and those who try to prevent smuggling at Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport, concede it is an impossible task. But they appear to be fighting a winning battle.

In 1968, Hong Kong authorities hauled in more than a ton of narcotics, which would be worth more than $18,000,000 wholesale if it were refined and distributed in American or European cities.

Seizures in 1967 totalled about $37,000,000 worth of opium, morphine and heroin and in 1968 authorities hauled in a record 12,000 pounds of narcotics, which would have been worth at least $87,000,000 had it found its way to the United States.

Senior Hong Kong preventive service officers and their counterparts in the police narcotics branch assert that the yearly decrease in narcotics seizures represents a decrease in the amounts coming in, not a failure on their parts to catch as much as in preceding years.

Much of the narcotics smuggled to Hong Kong is destined to other countries, including the United States and South America, authorities say, but a large enough amount is for local consumption.

Government welfare agencies estimate that there are 80,000 addicts in Hong Kong—one in every 50 persons living here.

Hong Kong's free money market attracts a great deal of gold smuggling. Most of the gold that is smuggled in is brought in by large syndicates seeking to move capital, which they do here easily because of the availability of virtually any currency on the open money market. In many cases, police believe, the money is used to pay for narcotics shipments or other illicit goods smuggled to the colony.

PRICES WIDELY QUOTED

The import of gold to Hong Kong, except in transit, is forbidden. But government authorities openly concede the existence of a gold market here and the market buying-selling prices are quoted throughout the world by financial services as if the operations were as legitimate as those of the New York and London stock exchanges.

When gold bullion arrives, it goes into the hands of what is well known in the colony as the Chinese Gold and Silver Association—a conveniently private club which is listed in the telephone book.

The association trades an average of some 2,500 ounces of gold per day and the daily volume can reach as many as 25,000 transactions.

The sale of gold is legal and authorities hardly ever bother to raid the market for it would be impossible to trace the origin of the bullion to charge anyone with smuggling.

Unlike other countries in Asia, Hong Kong has no restrictions on the import and export of silver—no matter what the quantities.

The only reason silver smugglers are forced to bring the metal in illegally is because most of it comes from countries which prohibit silver.

Orphaned Birds Are His Charge

ERINDALE, Ont. (CP) — For nearly half his life, 88-year-old Hance Roy Ivor has cared for injured and orphaned birds.

Described as a gentle man and an outdoor pacifist, Mr. Ivor has lived in the seclusion of his Windlinglane bird sanctuary, 20 miles west of Toronto's urban core, for the last 40 years.

With the co-operation of federal and provincial wildlife authorities, Mr. Ivor decided to pursue his theory that birds possess far more intelligence and personality than is popularly believed through direct contact.

Each year, people bring him about 250 injured birds. Mr. Ivor nurses them back to health in the warmth of his living room before they are set free in a winter observatory, a 40-foot-long structure with glass on one wall.

In the spring, Mr. Ivor removes the windows and the birds are free to exercise in a large partitioned cage.

The veteran naturalist explained that the birds are kept apart, since they fight during the spring mating season.

The structure, adjoining Mr. Ivor's cottage, houses about 100 birds of 25 species. In the winter months the observatory is heated at a constant 55 degrees.

The birds have no fear of Mr. Ivor, and they land on his head or hand when he calls them. He spends many hours feeding baby birds with an eye-dropper.

An example of his rapport with the birds is his friendship with Teo, a red-tailed hawk. A member of the eagle family, the hawk has a vicious reputation.

But Teo pampers Mr. Ivor like one of her own nestlings. She even likes to take a sip of his pear wine.

Bongo Drummed Out Of Existence

NAIROBI (Reuters) — The bongo, a rare and beautiful species of antelope, is being driven to the brink of extinction in Kenya by poachers, two Oxford University zoologists report.

The bongo has virtually disappeared from its former stronghold in the wild Cherangani Hills in northwestern Kenya, zoologists Richard Wrangham and Mark Stanley-Price said.

Wrangham and Stanley-Price came to East Africa specifically to investigate the habits of the bongo. In eight weeks, they located only a single group of 15 breeding animals, which they believe is the last remaining herd of bongos in the hills.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Nixon Confronts Experts' Stand

By PHILIP DEANE,
Foreign Affairs Analyst

Mr. Nixon is probably discovering (in case he had forgotten General Eisenhower's experience) that a president who is so often called the most powerful man on earth, is often powerless: he cannot run the world by himself, must rely on a vast bureaucracy or, rather, bureaucrats, and the bureaucrats have their own policies which they fight to preserve.

Nowhere is this more apparent currently than in Vietnam. A policy has been built there over many years. Supporters of the policy, within the bureaucracy, were promoted, opponents were sent to other satrapies of the bureaucracy, to deal with other territories. Thus, the "experts" on Vietnam are nearly all men of the same creed. They are believers in a U.S. military role for South East Asia.

They have spent 14 years of their lives marshalling arguments to buttress the case for a U.S. military presence in South East Asia—they had to; their superiors wanted arguments for interviews, for congressional testimony. The bureaucrats did their homework diligently and they finally became believers: nothing convinces a man so well as his own, well ordered arguments (how often do you find that you think a man is right because he agrees with you?).

INQUISTION

A natural selection process has operated by now in various strata of the State Department, the Pentagon and the CIA, till believers in certain policies man certain posts. Vietnam is not the only example: the American officials handling Greek affairs served their apprenticeship in Greece when there was a communist guerrilla war in that country and Senator Joseph McCarthy was conducting a grand inquisition in the U.S. against all who did not regard the struggle against communism as straight case of fighting the devil and burning witches. Inevitably, many of the men running Greek affairs for the U.S. have attitudes shaped by their early training.

The case of Vietnam is, of course, much more vital to the world at large. Mr. Nixon's Under-Secretary of State, U. Alexis Johnson, declared the other day that he recommends continuing "exactly the same policy . . . it is paying dividends and I think it is going in the same direction."

The evidence has been nearly always to the contrary for the past several years. The village-burning policies which have made Viet Cong partisans out of so many dispossessed Vietnamese peasants, are continuing. Henry Kissinger, Mr. Nixon's new special assistant for national security affairs, disagrees with U. Alexis Johnson and William Colby. Mr. Colby, a CIA man, holds the rank of ambassador and is in charge of so-called "pacification" in South Vietnam. He, and others, including U. Alexis Johnson, have said for years that they were right in Vietnam. To change their views now is to make a public confession of error. No bureaucrat likes that. Nobody does.

CANADA'S STORY

Angry B.C. Group Marched On Ottawa

By BOB BOWMAN

When British Columbia agreed to join Canada in 1871, the deal was that the federal government would pay the province a subsidy based on a population of 60,000. Canada also agreed to build a transcontinental railway within 10 years, and that the work would begin within two years.

However, in 1874 the Conservative government under Sir John A. Macdonald was defeated, and the Liberals led by Alexander Mackenzie went into office. Mackenzie was appalled by the prospect of keeping the promises that had been made to British Columbia. Some of them were under-cover deals. For instance the estimate of 60,000 population was fictitious. The true figure was closer to 10,000.

Canada was also feeling the effects of a severe depression that had engulfed North America in 1873. Mackenzie maintained that the deal with British Columbia had been "insane" and said that it was a bargain made to be broken. He tried to compromise by substituting a transportation route that would be partly by rail and partly by water.

In the meantime Arthur de Cosmos had become Premier of British Columbia. He had been born William Smith in Nova Scotia but changed his name to Arthur de Cosmos or "lover of the world" when he went to British Columbia and became editor of a newspaper. Perhaps he might be called the original Canadian hippie. De Cosmos was willing to have the terms of the deal changed to help the Mackenzie government because in return he expected to get a dry-dock built at Esquimalt, near Victoria.

The proposed change in the terms of union so enraged many people in Victoria that on Feb. 7, 1874, a crowd of about 800 invaded the legislature singing:

"We'll hang De Cosmos on a sour apple tree
We'll hang De Cosmos on a sour apple tree
As we go marching on."

De Cosmos was forced to barricade himself in a private room, and the members of the legislature were driven out until they passed a resolution stating that no change could be made in the terms of union without consent of the electorate. De Cosmos resigned from provincial politics.

OTHER EVENTS ON FEB. 7:

1758—Governor and Council of Nova Scotia passed resolution organizing a legislature.

1792—Upper and Lower Canada offered free land to U.S. citizens who would settle there.

1867—Lord Carnarvon introduced British North America Act in House of Lords.

1918—War Purchasing Board was created.

Mrs. Ralph Smith became first woman member of Legislature of British Columbia.

1926—Gold rush began at Red Bank, Ont.

NATO And Warsaw Pact Nations Spend Great Deal Upon 'Defence'

WASHINGTON (CP) —

NATO and its Communist counterpart, the Warsaw Pact nations, accounted for nearly nine-tenths of the "sharp" surge in global military spending in 1966 and 1967, says the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Total world spending on arms was an estimated $182,000,000,000 in 1967, a rise of $23,000,000,000 and a continued rise in 1968 was forecast in the third annual report by the U.S. agency.

"Military spending today exceeds that of any prior period except the peak fighting years of the Second World War," it says. "The total is the equivalent of all the income for the 1,000,000,000 people living in Latin America, South Asia and the Near East."

ARMS RACE COSTLY

Further, says the report, military expenses are "greater by 40 per cent than worldwide expenditures on education by all levels of government and more than three times worldwide expenditures on public health."

"Increases in military expenditures from 1965 to 1967 were 35 per cent for the NATO countries, 29 per cent for the Warsaw Pact and 24 per cent for the rest of the world including the less-developed countries," says the report.

"If the recent increase of military spending continues, the arms race will consume another $4,000,000,000 in only 10 years."

Using 1966 statistics, the report lists Canada as 10th in arms spending behind the Big

Three, of the U.S. $83,300,000,000; Soviet Union ($47,000,000,000) and Britain ($6,900,000,000). All totals are in American dollars.

Canada's total was $1,800,000,000.

Other figures show that in 1968 Canada's military spending was 1.1 per cent of the world total and that its armed forces of 107,000 amounted to .5 per cent of the population.

Journey By Air Best For Fish

VICTORIA (CP) — Fingerling rainbow trout being transferred for restocking purposes find it safer to go to the lake via a 400-foot fall from an aircraft than by road travel.

Officials at the provincial fish and wildlife branch will explain, however, that this is not meant as criticism of the roads. It's just that infant rainbows don't always fare well during long hauls aboard trucks to remote lakes.

"On the other hand, when the fingerling is dropped from a plane it kind of floats down like a leaf," said George Ferguson, public information officer.

This is one of the reasons that planes are used for the major part of the restocking program. Last fall the branch distributed 3,000,000 fingerlings through 100 British Columbia lakes. Of these, 186 lakes were restocked by air drops.

"When they are air-dropped they just hit the water and scurry away unharmed; the mortality rate is almost nil," Mr. Ferguson said.

TODAY in HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Feb. 7, 1969 . . .

The first military submarine went into action 105 years ago today—in 1864—and sank the Housatonic, a United States warship. The submarine was the Hunley, a small Confederate States vessel, which carried a torpedo in its bows and rammed the Housatonic.

The Hunley sank as well, while withdrawing. Early submarines of this type were powered by six or eight men turning a crank which drove a propeller.

1788—Indians captured Daniel Boone and 27 companions at Blue Lick, Ky.

1904—The business district of Baltimore, Md., was wiped out by a fire that destroyed 2,600 buildings.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1944—Russian troops reached the eastern suburbs of Narva, eight miles inside Estonia; RAF planes bombed western Germany; air battles over the Anzio beachhead showed Allied air superiority.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Oh Yes, Indeed, It's So, Strep Germ A Traveller

By DR. GEORGE THOSTESON

Dear Dr. Thosteson:

I have a mother-in-law and father-in-law who claim up and down that tonsillitis is not contagious. I have been told by my doctor and others that it is highly infectious. Is it or not? —Mrs. G.V.

I don't know where your in-laws could have acquired such a belief. Tonsillitis—inflammation of the general area of the tonsils is usually caused by a streptococcus germ.

As with any disease involving the strep germ, transfer of the germ from one person to another carries the risk of passing along the illness.

In a word, tonsillitis can be highly contagious and is a serious condition. The germs can be spread by sneezes, a cough, or even carried on the breath, in invisible droplets of moisture.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My friend who is only 17 thinks she is about two months pregnant. She will not tell her parents and I can't do anything except stand by and watch. She hasn't eaten now for two weeks and plans to keep starving herself until the embryo dies. Will this harm her? Will the embryo die or, if it lives, will this harm it? —N.M.P.

That poor youngster is desperate and confused, but she has not found a solution which will answer her problem. Both she and the embryo will be harmed, of course, by this starvation, but it is extremely doubtful that the embryo will die. Instead, your friend will collapse, and need medical care, and then her secret will come out anyway—after the additional harm has been done.

She isn't the first girl to get herself in such a fix. There are agencies in most cities to help just such girls, and the sooner she gets help, the better. After all, the baby-to-be has some rights, too!

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My eight-year-old daughter has a cavity in a tooth but her father will not take her to a dentist. He insists that if it is kept untreated the toothache will be gone. And he says absolutely no sugar for her, not even on her oatmeal. Is he right or wrong? —Mrs. N.T.

How wrong can anyone get? Tooth cavities don't cure themselves. If he won't take her to a dentist, why don't you?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 18, male and in good health, but my naval has been secreting a tiny bit of liquid which crusts up, and the odor is unbearable. I wash it away but it always comes again. What is it, and what can I do about it? —L.G.

Two principal possibilities. It may be an infection in the navel or "belly button". Or it may be that the tube, which once was the umbilical cord, did not close off completely after you were born. The other end of this tube connects to the urinary system.

I have no way of knowing which of these two possibilities is the more likely, but you should have your physician look into the situation. It isn't likely to get better by itself. But it could get worse if you don't have it corrected.

Note to Mrs. B.G.: Sorry, but I don't know of any drugs that will correct a fistula, surgery is the answer.

New 'Super Trees'
To Grow In Canada

BAINBRIDGE, Ga. (AP) — International Paper Co. says it has developed a new strain of pine trees at its experimental forest here and will plant new seedlings on nearly 4,000,000 acres of company land in the southern United States.

Darwin E. Fender, director of the experimental forest, said the so-called "super trees" grow faster and are more resistant to disease and drought. In addition, they yield more fibre per cord for papermaking.

The new trees are scientifically cross-bred from carefully selected species of southern pine — loblolly, slash and short leaf.

The company said the new strain may be harvested completely and a new crop planted in about 25 years, compared with the current cycle of 40 to 50 years from planting to harvest.

BOOK CORNER

Jane's All the world's aircraft, 59th year of issue, edited and compiled by John W. R. Taylor.

The 1968-69 issue of this most amazing compilation of all the world's aircraft, missiles, space vehicles, and aero engines is bigger and better than ever before, a trend in keeping with the world wide expansion of aviation.

Jane's lists only those aircraft which are in current production, or which arrived at at least the prototype stage during the preceding year. This is sometimes somewhat of a drawback because for information on many types of flying machines actually in service one has to refer to preceding issues. The detail and accuracy of the contents more than make up for this however, and one can imagine many an aviation enthusiast poring gleefully over this work.

Ornamental Shrubs for Canada, by Lawrence Sherck and Arthur Buckley.

This new book comes from the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa, and is one of the few books about gardening in Canada. It covers care, pruning, insect pests and planting instructions. The pictures are small, but the colour photography is excellent, and shrubs are listed under botanical names as well as popular names. Something to dream over until the snow is gone, and we can get out in our gardens again.

The Art of Making Wine, by Stanley F. Anderson and Raymond Hull.

Amateur wine making would seem to be one of the few hobbies which becomes notable by its failure. We have all heard lurid tales of horrendous happenings in the night when Uncle Cec decided to make some dandelion wine and somewhere along the line something went wrong to the accompaniment of bursting bottles. The sad thing is that if Uncle Cec had had this new book, the chances are that he would have gone on from strength to strength in more ways than one.

The co-author "Andy" Anderson is perhaps the most highly qualified man in Western Canada to write a book on amateur wine making since he has for many years operated a chain of wine maker's supply stores. His lucid, well illustrated book covers everything from ingredients, equipment, sugars, acid control, evaporation, storage and many other essential areas of the wine maker's art, including over fifty simple recipes from elderberry wine to Fino Sherry.

Highly recommended to beginners and experts alike.

Thelma Ritter Dies At 65

NEW YORK (CP) — Thelma Ritter, the raspy-voiced actress who played in movies, radio, television and one Broadway musical, died Feb. 5 in Queens General Hospital. She would have been 65 on Valentine's Day.

Miss Ritter, who resided in Queens with her husband of 41 years, Joseph Moran, suffered a heart attack at her home Jan. 27.

She was a rarity in the film world—a character actress who got star billing. With her gravel voice, bleak expression and sardonic twist of the lips, she was known to millions as the comic maid or cleaning woman who could raise a howl of laughter with the blandest of lines.

A native of Brooklyn, she began acting when she was eight years old and appeared with stock companies in the metropolitan area.

Her first movie role, in the 1947 Miracle on 34th Street, launched her on the road to semi-stardom in a number of films.

TELLS OFF SANTA

In that film she played a harried Brooklyn housewife who tells off an equally harried department store Santa Claus for promising her son too much for Christmas.

She then rolled up a long number of Hollywood successes which, in the early 1950s, gained her an unprecedented four consecutive Oscar nominations for best supporting actress—but no Oscars.

As the possessive mother to Burt Lancaster's convict Robert Stroud in Birdman of Alcatraz, she turned from comedy and won plaudits for a straight dramatic role. She also won acclaim in Paddy Chayevsky's television drama The Catered Affair and in New Girl in Town, a Broadway musical version of Eugene O'Neill's Anna Christie.

Her movie roles included the maid in All About Eve, the mother-in-law in The Mating Game, the panhandler in Pickup on South Street, the free-wheeling millionaire in Titanic, a meddling sister-in-law in A Hole in the Head, and as a secretary in Daddy Long Legs.

PROFITABLE

Comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis achieved success in 15 money-making films before they split up in 1956.

THEY WILL HOG ALL THAT BACH

MADRID, Iowa (Reuters) — An Iowa pig farmer has decided his pigs would be happier and he would have to work less if he piped Bach music into the pig pen, installed central heating and let the hogs walk on carpeted floors.

Harold Robbins, 63, says he hoped his pig pen within a year will be so luxurious and so automated: "I won't have to go outside my living room to feed the pigs."

"All I will have to do is touch a button and they will be fed," he explained. "And if I hear a little pig squeak (two way speakers are installed in the barn and home), I will just turn a television camera on and see which sow is standing on the pig, punch a button for the feeder and the sow will move off the pig to eat the feed."

The hog house will have an infirmary with medical equipment including an x-ray machine and a darkroom to develop the x-rays.

Robbins, a former TV repairman, bought a small farm 30 miles north of Des Moines for his experiment.

He is an accomplished organist and plays music himself for the pigs. The 3,000-pipe organ is located in the basement of his house. He spent four years building the organ and connecting it with the pig pen.

RETURN OF WOJCEK

That crusading coroner Steve Wojcek, as played by John Vernon, will be back on the CBC-TV network for a 10-week season of repeats from earlier series. Wojcek is scheduled to reappear on the TV screens across the nation in mid-February. The popular star of the series, John Vernon, is now living and working in Hollywood.

Promises, Promises Exceptional - It Doesn't Fulfil Promises

NEW YORK (AP) — Considering all the energy that is visible and the talent involved in putting it together, Promises, Promises is an exceptionally pallid and tepid example of Broadway musical comedy.

The show which has opened here at the Shubert Theatre is based upon a sardonic film hit of several years ago, The Apartment. If you saw the picture—and even if you didn't—you can skip this version.

There are several current showbiz whizzes involved in the preparation—Neil Simon, master of gags, for the book; and Bert Bacharach with Hal David, for the songs.

In the screen-to-stage transfer, however, the bitter comic style of the original's comment on amoral hijinks among big corporation brass has been replaced with formula hokum and burlesque junk.

Jerry Orbach acquires himself well as the young man who succeeds in business by supplying sundry bosses with facilities for extra-marital dalliance, before switching eventually into an Horatio Alger hero abjuring venality and getting the sullied but true-blue girl of his dreams.

The lass is enacted by Jill O'Hara, who matches a road-company Streisand twang to Orbach's robust baritone in the mostly forgettable score.

Conspicuously attractive in other parts are Edward Winters, as a hypocritical employer; and A. Larry Haines, carrying off a routine comic Jewish mohler role in the guise of a next-door doctor.

The Bacharach-David team concentrates on providing tunes that are plot bridges more than potential hit singles, but a standout exception is a pretty ballad, I'll Never Fall in Love Again.

The direction by Robert Moore emphasized vigor and dallies with filler stuff. Michael Bennett's choreography is all agitated congestion.

Promises, Promises never really delivers for producer David Merrick who hasn't hit a musical jackpot since Hello, Dolly five years ago.

Movie Companies' Passion For Road Shows Cooling

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A glance at the movie release schedule for 1969 indicates that the film companies' passion for roadshow attractions is cooling.

The reserved-seat became popular with movie firms after the historic accomplishment of The Sound of Music, which pushed through the $100,000,000 barrier during its sensational three-year run. That prompted the companies to seek other attractions that could be shown at advanced prices in a single theatre for long periods.

But it wasn't that easy. No other film has come along to combine the magic elements of Sound of Music, and millions have been lost in trying. The economic reality: Though you can earn fantastic profits on a roadshow, you can also lose enormously, because of the high cost of producing and exhibiting such films.

Only about one in three roadshows appears to score, and there are apparently no rules for success. It used to be that the presence of Julie Andrews ensured a hit—witness Sound of Music, Hawaii, Thoroughly Modern Mill—but even she is fallible, as demonstrated by the disappointing returns for Star

DON'T NEED NAMES
Big names and rave reviews aren't necessary. The no-name 2001: A Space Odyssey drew many poor reviews, yet it has caught on with the young generation. But the all-star Shoes of the Fisherman is doing only fair business.

The Graduate, Bonnie and Clyde, Rosemary's Baby and The Odd Couple proved that pictures don't have to be roadshows to attract monumental grosses. In fact, such hits constituted better investments because of lower cost and faster pay-off.

Twentieth Century-Fox continues to place faith in the roadshow. And with good reason: The company has had the most profitable ones. Coming up for 1969 is Justine, based on Lawrence Sanders' novels. Hello, Dolly! is also a hopeful entry, provided an arrangement can be worked out with David Merrick, who controls the release date.

Paramount, currently prospering with Romeo and Juliet, has two big musicals ready for 1969: Paint Your Wagon and Darling Lili. Also the Harold

SELLERS ADMITS USING 'POT'

LONDON (Reuters) — Actor Peter Sellers has admitted smoking marijuana.

The 43-year-old movie comedian told an audience Tuesday night that he was an occasional smoker of the outlawed drug.

In a statement issued through a spokesman, Sellers said:

"It would have been hypocritical of me to say anything else. I did not intend to make a statement on drugs but I was asked a question."

Sellers said he had used marijuana with groups of friends "and there's no harm in it, so long as it doesn't lead to other things; I mean it's better than drink."

He warned against use of what he called hard drugs, such as LSD.

"But marijuana is all right, and court sentences for using it are ridiculous. It heightens the senses and one of the best ways of using it is when listening to music."

Sellers was making an appearance for a charity when a member of the audience asked him the question about marijuana.

United Artists is bringing out two made-in-Europe roadshows: Stanley Kramer's The Secret of Santa Vittoria and the war film, The Battle of Britain. Columbia is offering a large-size western McKenna's Gold, and a space pic, Marooned. Universal has a Shirley MacLaine musical, Sweet Charity, and the all-star Airport. Even the new network-backed companies are getting into the act; CBS Films is sponsoring The Royal Hunt of the Sun.

MGM, prospering once more with Gone with the Wind, hopes that Ben Hur will have similar success on its re-issue this year.

OTTAWA (CP) — Sixty-eight applications for licences by cable television systems in five provinces will be heard by the Canadian Radio-Television Commission at a public hearing in London, Ont., opening March 4.

The applications are for cable TV services in Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

As of last April 1 such systems came under the jurisdiction of the country's broadcasting regulatory authority, instead of the federal transport department. They now are governed by the same regulations as conventional television.

Critics Emerge Shellshocked From Marathon War and Peace

LONDON (CP) — Critics emerged impressed but shellshocked from a marathon preview of Russia's movie War and Peace which has just opened here.

Shown in a trimmed, American-dubbed version first seen in New York last fall, the epic adaptation of Tolstoy's novel runs for 6½ hours.

Paying audiences can see the movie in two three-hour parts playing on alternating weeks, but hardy movie critics saw the whole saga in one all-day session, with two coffee breaks and an hour for lunch.

The Soviet movie's cost is estimated at close to $100,000,000—it would have cost four or five times as much if it had been made in the West—it has a cast of more than 120,000, and involved 250,000 people during five years of filming.

Some 270 indoor and outdoor sets were constructed for the film, enough for 15 ordinary-scale feature movies.

IS FAMILY SAGA

"In magnitude it is a Gorge with the East Wind and much more," commented Cecil Wilson in The Daily Mail.

"As an intricately woven family chronicle, involving in this case four stately families, all tensed up for Napoleon's invasion, it is a kind of Forsyte Czarga (saga) and as a war panorama it has no precedent.

"It packs in about everything you could ask of an epic—vast ball and banquet scenes recapturing all the glory of the 19th century elite, raging battles, duels, tragic treks of refugees... but very little humor."

Director Sergei Bondarchuk—he also produced, wrote the screenplay and took a leading role in the movie—created stunning battle scenes that flow for miles across the ravaged Russian countryside.

A special credit goes to a pyrotechnician who used 23 tons of gunpowder, 105,000 tons of kerosene and 160 authentic cannon for the set-piece battles of Borodino and Austerlitz.

CONFLICTS AWESOME

More than 100,000 Soviet soldiers were used to play the opposing French and Russian armies.

"It is a film that assaults the imagination," said Robert Ottaway of The Daily Sketch.

Ann Pacey of The Sun wrote that the film "succeeds brilliantly, makes 'everyone sound scenes of conflict.'"

"The battlegrounds with their chaos of killed and wounded are exactly as if a series of old prints had been brought terribly to life."

Among acting honors, the critics singled out Ludmila Savelyeva, an unknown former ballerina, who was chosen from 3,000 actresses for the key romantic role of Natasha.

She bears a striking resemblance to Audrey Hepburn, who had the same part in a Hollywood version made 12 years ago.

DUBBING SAID POOR

Apart from its slow and rather disjointed style, the main critical quibble is with the English-language dubbing, which, said Alexander Walker of the London Evening Standard, makes "everyone sound like a ventriloquist's dummy with lockjaw."

And Eric Shorter of The Daily Telegraph complained that this version "lops two hours off Sergei Bondarchuk's original film which has been running in Paris with subtitles."

However, a battle-fatigued Donald Zec in The Daily Mirror suggested the movie could be shortened even more.

"Judiciously cut to three hours this may have been a cinema masterpiece of our time," he said. "Four hours... and the general verdict might have been 'long but great.'"

"But when you have seen both halves spun out to a monumental 6½ hours, you may have the uneasy feeling you've been sentenced rather than entertained."

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
CP Staff Writer

Henri Bourassa may one day be acclaimed as the prophet who saw long ago a Canada that has even yet to take shape, just as he foresaw Commonwealth replacing Empire.

The words of this French-Canadian nationalist—some call him the first real Canadian nationalist—come across the generations with a sometimes-startling ring of contemporary relevance.

Impact of the late intellectual-editor - politician-orator on French-Canadians was once immense, and his memory and ideas still enjoy a measure of veneration though today's Quebec constitutional radicals would scrap his federalist beliefs.

He founded the newspaper Le Devoir, which first appeared on the stands Jan. 10, 1910, and to this day enjoys an intellectual distinction in French-Canadian life. In these times of ostentatious bilingualism, it is said to be a stroke of oneupmanship to be seen with Le Devoir on the Toronto subway.

Besides Bourassa's own writings, there is in French a considerable body of literature on his life and times but—typically sad commonplace of Canadian life—the nationalist's ideas are little known on the other side of the linguistic curtain.

Casey Murrow, son of the late United States commentator Edward R. Murrow, has done something about this lack in his book Henri Bourassa and French-Canadian Nationalism, published by Harvest House.

As Mr. Murrow says, the book, a history thesis at Yale University, tells only part of the Bourassa story, dealing mostly with the 25 years after his election to Parliament in 1896 at the age of 28—the most active years of his life.

It deals with his anti-imperialism—which brought charges of traitor—and his opposition to Canada's participation in the South African war, her commitments in support of the Royal Navy in 1910-12 and First World War conscription.

Bourassa's platforms ranged from country schools to the Commons to Notre Dame Church in Montreal, but much of his enormous energy and talent ran fruitlessly into the sands. His break with and defeat of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, once his idol, makes an unlovely story.

But Bourassa believed for many years that Canada's people had a rare opportunity to pursue common goals while fostering a cultural dualism between English- and French-Canadians. And his dream was of both cultures side by side from coast to coast, not a Quebec-and-the rest solution.

DUALITY HIS SOLUTION

"If this duality were established, Bourassa believed that it could assure the preservation of the French language and of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada," writes Mr. Murrow. "To him this was imperative. His was essentially a conservative nationalism that reflected in large part the defensive reactions of French-Canadians since the Conquest."

Once, during the conscription, bitterness of the First World War, Mr. Bourassa wrote a passage which, though in whiplash terms, seemed to envisage a Commonwealth:

"All that is good in British ideals, and there is much of it, would be better served by the free action of several independent British communities than by the common action of a monstrous empire, built up by force and robbery and kept together for no other purpose than allowing one race and nation to dominate one-fifth of the human race. British nations have to choose between British ideals and British domination."

"I stand for ideals and against domination. I may be hanged for it, in the name of British liberty, but that does not matter."

CRUSADE FALTERED

Mr. Murrow deals only briefly with the latter part of the life of the bearded, impassioned nationalist, more often a spokesman than a leader of his people. From the early 1940s to Bourassa's death in 1952, he was "unable to rally himself or his followers to further efforts on behalf of the larger concept of nationalism."

"That crusade had been dampened and virtually destroyed in the violent rounds of separatist and fascistic doctrines which swept Quebec in the inter-war years. Bourassa without an audience was a frustrated man."

Yet B. K. Sandwell, editor of the Toronto-based publication Saturday Night, was able to say in his eulogy:

"... All the constitutional issues which he espoused during the first 50 years of his life and for which he was repaid by being denounced as a traitor by a fair share of the English-speaking public have become established constitutional practices."

"The Privy Council has disappeared from the Canadian judicial scene. The Governor-General is a Canadian, named by Canadians. . . . Only Canadians can place Canada on a war footing or restore her to peace. Canada now has her own ambassadors throughout the world."

Henri Bourassa and French-Canadian Nationalism, by Casey Murrow, $5 hard cover, $2.50 paperback; Harvest House.

Michener's 'Innovation' Trip Takes In 4 Caribbean Lands

OTTAWA (CP) — Governor-General Roland Michener will be setting constitutional precedent when he makes his tour of four Caribbean countries starting later this month.

While Canada's governor-general have travelled abroad before, sometimes on official visits, a Government House spokesman announced that the Caribbean tour is the first actual "state visit."

He called it an innovation and a "strengthening" of the government's office by the government.

In Jamaica, Guyana, Barbados and Trinidad-Tobago, Mr. Michener will receive full honors of a head of state, including 21-gun salutes and guards of honor.

And the visit will be done in style. At Port of Spain, Trinidad, the aircraft carrier Bonaventure will break off manoeuvres to permit the Governor-General to have a reception for 500 to 600 people.

While the visit will add to the status of the governor-general's office, it does not represent a new departure for the Trudeau government.

Arrangements were identical for the trip. Mr. Michener was to have taken before the end of the Pearson government a year ago, and which he cancelled after defeat of a government tax bill.

STAYED IN CASE
He decided at that time that he ought to stay in the country in case of a possible change in government or constitutional tangle.

The scope of the present trip apparently prompted the tart question posed in the Commons earlier this week by former prime minister John Diefenbaker.

He asked whether the Queen's consent had been obtained for the tour, "in view of the fact that the Governor-General exists constitutionally only because there is a Queen to be represented."

Mr. Trudeau replied that consent had been asked for and would certainly be given—"most likely" before Mr. Michener leaves on Feb. 11.

Mr. Diefenbaker replied that "as a matter of fact, he can't leave without it."

Letters patent issued to the governor-general in 1947 confirm Mr. Diefenbaker's comment.

They state that the Governor-General "shall not quit Canada without having first obtained leave from us (The Queen) for so doing through the prime minister of Canada."

They also provide that the Governor-General does not have to name an administrator if he is out of the country for less than a month.

PLANS HOLIDAY TOO
The coming trip will last exactly a month, including several days of vacation at an undisclosed location after the official functions are completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Michener will fly to Jamaica Feb. 11 for a four-day visit that will include a meeting with former prime minister Sir Alexander Bustamante and a tour of the Alcan Works at Mandeville.

In Guyana, where they will remain from Feb. 15 to 21, there will be a visit to the interior and a reception by Prime Minister Forbes Burnham for "approximately 3,000 guests."

In Barbados Mr. Michener will address a joint session of the houses of Parliament and will also tour the High Altitude Research Project originated by McGill University.

The Micheners will remain in Barbados from Feb. 21 to 26 and then will go to Trinidad-Tobago for a visit that will be climaxed by the state reception aboard the Bonaventure March 1.

From March 3 to 11 they will holiday somewhere in the Caribbean area.

Renewed Heavy Rainstorms Revive L.A. Flood Threat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Renewed heavy rainstorms poured down on Southern California Thursday, reviving threats of floods and mudslides in a state still stunned from 101 weather-related deaths in a multi-million dollar storm late last month.

In suburban Glendora, the community hardest hit by January's storms, mud oozed through the streets forcing authorities to alert sleeping residents to prepare for possible evacuation.

County road and city street workers were awakened in their homes to erect barricades in an attempt to save structures and stem the flow of mud. All of the Glendora area's police, firemen and sheriff's deputies were mobilized.

Along the coastline in the Malibu area, sheriff's deputies said sections of several roads, including Pacific Coast Highway, were closed by mud and rockslides and debris. No homes in the area were immediately threatened, they said.

Two heavy storms in the latter weeks of January were blamed for 101 deaths and damage estimated at more than $120,000,000 and still rising.

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

1.  $\spadesuit KJ92$   $\heartsuit 5$   $\diamondsuit K974$   $\clubsuit K1085$

2.  $\spadesuit J865$   $\heartsuit Q92$   $\diamondsuit KQ973$   $\clubsuit A$

3.  $\spadesuit KQ874$   $\heartsuit 7$   $\diamondsuit J865$   $\clubsuit Q92$

4.  $\spadesuit A10$   $\heartsuit J84$   $\diamondsuit K7632$   $\clubsuit KQ3$

5.  $\spadesuit KQ862$   $\heartsuit AQ74$   $\diamondsuit KJ83$   $\clubsuit -$

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

North East South West

1  $\heartsuit 2$   $\spadesuit ?$

1. Double. Game is uncertain at this point, and the best solution is to double for penalties. You can probably take four tricks on defense and should expect partner to take three or four more for a penalty of 500 to 800 points. You shouldn't let East off the hook by choosing any other form of action.

2. Two hearts. It may seem more natural to bid two diamonds, but this could lead to a difficult situation if North now said two hearts. To pass North's rebid would amount to suppression of the heart support; to raise to three hearts would be bidding more than your hand is worth. An immediate heart raise avoids this difficulty and puts the decision right where it belongs—in partner's lap.

3. Pass. Two spades would be forcing and could lead to terrible complications if partner lacked spade support. Rather than run such a risk, it is better to pass. Partner still has a bid coming, and little can be lost if he is unable to take further action.

4. Two notrump. The chief bids to consider are two diamonds, two notrump and double. The double is not recommended in this case because game prospects are excellent and the potential penalty may not compensate for it.

Game is almost certain in either hearts or notrump. One advantage of bidding two notrump directly is that the balanced distribution is immediately described and partner is presented a notrump or suit contract. Another advantage is that potential club ruffs in a suit contract may be avoided.

The alternative bid of two diamonds would create a problem if North's rebid were two hearts. You would then have to choose between game in hearts or notrump, without knowing which was right.

5. Three clubs. A small slam or grand slam appears highly likely, and the best way of conveying the good news is by an immediate cuebid. The cuebid shows first-round club control and implies good heart support. It strongly suggests a slam, but just how far you go depends mostly on what partner does next.

ANN LANDERS

Middle-Aged Charming Can Protect Himself

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married 25 years. As a young man he was nice looking, but nothing spectacular. During middle age, however, he has filled out, his hair has turned grey around the temples, and the dirty dog is now a very handsome man. Also, he has developed a charming manner which is immensely appealing to the ladies.

The problem is that the women will simply not leave him alone. From 15 to 60, beautiful and homely, drunk and sober, they fall for him like crazy. I used to laugh it off but it's not funny any more. The women in our social circle, both mothers and daughters, are becoming so aggressive that I am concerned. Furthermore, there are so many beautiful divorcees running loose these days that I need some advice on how to hang on to what's legally and rightfully mine. Any suggestions?

L. L. L.: If you've been married 25 years, your husband must be at least 45. He is, in my opinion, old enough to protect himself against aggressive women, from 15 to 60, beautiful and homely, drunk or sober—if he wants to, that is. And if he doesn't want to, you can't protect him, Honey.

Dear Ann Landers: I'll make this real easy for you because I know you have a zillion letters to read. Just put a check in one of these spaces. Yes or No.

My cleaning lady has worked for me four years. She's the world's dumbest cluck but I don't have the heart to fire her. Besides, the next one might be dumber.

Last week she asked me how to remove a wine spot from my best tablecloth. I jokingly said, "You'll probably have to use a scissors." She took the scissors and cut out the spot.

Should I make her pay for the cloth? It would be two day's salary. Yes or No? — STILL BOILING.

Dear Still: No. If after four years you haven't learned that this woman takes everything you say literally, then you are dumber than she is.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's hobby is photography. Jack is a wonderful photographer and has won several prizes. He has taken many pictures of me—some with clothes on, others with clothes off.

Jack plans to enter a nude of me in an important exhibit this spring. There will be several cash prizes. The photograph he has in mind is really a semi-nude. I am partly concealed by a bath towel. Jack insists that because my face is turned from the camera and the lighting is heavily shaded no one could recognize me as the model. I say a stranger wouldn't recognize me but my friends and family might.

I'm very upset about this, Ann. He says I am being foolish. Am I? — UNSHIRTED HELL.

Dear Un: Put on a leotard or a bathing suit and tell Jack to take some more pictures.

Okanagan in particular. Realtors and their wives from the four divisions which comprise OMREB, Kamloops, Shuswap, Revelstoke, Kelowna and Penticton, will join in the party celebrations.

The cast and entire production staff of Kelowna Musical Productions relaxed Saturday evening from the pressures of steady rehearsals to enjoy a get-acquainted party at the Women's Institute Hall on Lawrence Avenue. Cheese and refreshments were served and dancing and a sing-song were part of the evening's entertainment. During the evening Dr. Duncan Innes, on behalf of the gathering, presented Mrs. H. H. Bridger with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The entire assembly broke into a spontaneous rendition of Bloody Mary, from the South Pacific musical, which Mrs. Bridger starred in here. Mrs. Bridger, who was a member of the cast of Show Boat, the current production slated for March 18, is leaving the city.

Local Nurses Chapter Plans 'It's Spring, Charlie Brown'

The Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, Kelowna Chapter, recently held their quarterly meeting at the Longhorn Restaurant.

Mrs. Elsie Clark reported on the group income replacement plan now available to the RNABC. A representative of the Continental Casualty Company will be contacting the nurses regarding this plan.

A comprehensive report on the project committee was given by Jill Thompson. The Kelowna Chapter of the RNABC have decided to sponsor a three-day seminar on the topic of communications. Dr. Dominic LaRusso, from the University of Washington, Seattle, will give the lectures on June 26, 27 and 28.

Other general business was then dealt with. Marcia Aitkens, outgoing president, spoke on the events of the past year. She and her executive were credited with many achievements during their time in office.

The annual meeting followed with the installation of the following executives: president, Mrs. Delcie Hill; first vice-president, Marg Nelson and second vice-president, Mrs. Dianna Behner.

Mrs. Gail Logan reported on the activities of the Future Nurses Club. This club consists of a group of high school students interested in a career in nursing. Some of these students, known as "Candy Strippers" are presently doing volunteer work at the Kelowna General Hospital.

A committee, headed by Mrs. Pat Legue and Mrs. Dianna Behner, was formed to plan the nurses' dance. This annual event, consisting of dinner, entertainment and dance, will be held at the Aquatic, May 2. The theme this year will be "It's Spring, Charlie Brown!" The enthusiasm for the planning of this event has been gratifying. The annual meeting then adjourned. The next quarterly meeting of the Kelowna Chapter, RNABC, is to be held March 10.

Kelowna Branch Of B.C. SPCA Completes Busy Year Here

The Kelowna Branch of the British Columbia Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, under president, Joan Hamblin, has just completed another successful year and the members are greatly encouraged by the interest shown by young people. The Rutland Teen Town donated a puppy house.

The Junior SPCA, under the leadership of Mrs. Harro Rahder, is very much alive, and 156 elementary pupils of School District 23 submitted posters in the recent poster contest organized by the Kelowna SPCA. These posters showed a very real appreciation of the animal kingdom, both wild and domestic, and a very keen perception of the need for SPCAs and other humane societies.

Inspector Jonathon Miller, during the last year, travelled 1,008 miles answering calls, making 109 investigations of alleged cruelty and 11 inspections of premises housing animals. More than 4,600 phone calls were received and 52 dogs and puppies and 12 kittens were placed in approved homes. A total of 557 unwanted, unloved, starving and sick cats and kittens were put to sleep. Lately Inspector Miller has had many calls concerning neglected horses in the recent frigid cold spell and has been active in trying to save birds trapped in the ice on the lakeshore.

The annual meeting of this branch will be held in the Health Centre, Queensway, on Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. Guest speaker will be Commander Francis J. Jones, executive director of the BCSPCA.

SWALLOWS COINS BRADFORD, England (AP) — Trevor Layte, 27, entered Bradford Royal Infirmary after swallowing seven penny coins on a bet. The first hospital bulletin reported: "He's comfortable. At present there is no change."

SKI SCENE

Karl Leads World Cup

By KENT STEVENSON

KARL SCHRANZ, of Austria, is fighting off the flu bug in his homeland, and after several months of consistently good skiing is shedding the ominous shadow of Jean Claude Killy.

Schranz is currently leading the race for the coveted World Cup which has eluded him since its inception two years ago. Gertrude Gabl, fellow Austrian, is leading the ladies section of the cup race.

At 30, Schranz is the veteran of the Austrian team that is favored to unseat the French for the team championship. Actually both ladies' and men's titles could be decided at the du Maurier International meet which is slated for the slopes of Mont Ste. Anne, March 14-16.

For Schranz it will be the culmination after years of frustration and near misses (recall the ill-fated fog race at the Olympics).

AL RAINE definitely knew where the grass was Greener. The head coach for the national team and ski queen Nancy Greene made it official Thursday that wedding bells would soon toll. The romance had been traversing the slopes for some time, but only a few insiders knew that it was a runaway race headed on a downhill course, heading straight for the chapel.

The news made the national wire services, was flashed around Europe and occupied a good many coffee breaks for the past two mornings. One wish that Nancy quipped was the hope for a quiet wedding to be held in her home town of Rossland. A wish she probably won't be able to enjoy. Knowing that city and its mother-like feeling for "their girl" a quiet wedding is probably the last thing she will get.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT of Rossland... The Kelowna Ski Club has had poor response to its planned jaunt to that city. The club has arranged for a bus trip leaving Kelowna next Friday spending two days there, and returning Sunday night. The all inclusive trip would include two meals, lift tickets and some social activities while there.

Skiers wanting to go are reminded that the deadline for reservations is Monday, and they should get a deposit to Peter Fulkner with all due haste. Phone calls would do to 763-2800 or 762-3110.

The club's last party went off as scheduled this past Friday. There were only about 50 takers, but reports have it that the food, refreshments, and skiing were just as good as the first one. The Gyro convention and the colder temperatures kept the crowd down.

Here again was an example of temperature inversion at work. Temps at the summits recently have been generally 10 to 15 degrees warmer than down in the valleys. A lot of people are missing good skiing by not keeping this in mind.

THE CLUB WILL definitely be holding more of these successful night parties at Last Mountain.

They have their new juke box installed in the Big White chalet, and along with the BW management are trying to encourage skiers to fill out their day by staying for refreshments and cheese at the BW chalet. A film, followed by a hay ride pulled by an "iron horse" (the snow cat) and then down to the club chalet for music, refreshments, and fellowship. What more could the ski-day ask for.

Bill and Peggy Aynsley along with Dr. Brian and Mrs. Holmes are about to embark on a ski holiday to the California, Nevada area. The two couples hope to spend some time in the Reno area taking in such places as Squaw Valley, Heavenly Valley and such like. We, of course, wish them good luck on the slopes and the tables.

THE UNIVERSITY of Denver more or less cleaned up in the annual inter-collegiate tournament held in Banff last weekend. Only two skiers from Washington were able to interrupt the clean sweep of the Denver squad. Once again "Skiland America" (Colorado) cleaned the collective clocks of the ski-college set. Nothing new.

Mira Klockacha, the new manager of the KSC chalet is only five foot three-inches... but he skis through the powder of Big White like a giant. He is presently using a pair of skis from Czechoslovakia which look like no other on the hill. His skis, when viewed from a distance look like they are glued together... their length... 215 cm.

It was reported recently that Monty Elsdon was seen using the bunny hill at Mt. Last. The reports proved true. Monty was indeed going his stuff, test-proving all the merchandise he deals with. There was one large bathtub left on the mountain which was attributed to Mr. E. though, and a complete smooth-over job is expected this next weekend.

FURTHER ON MONTIE... It was reported that he had "the skibee" and indeed he did. Unfortunately, some uninformed skiers thought that was some sort of infectious disease. After several hundred get-well cards, it should be explained that "skibee" is a junior ski program Montie has employed to get more youngsters skiing, and this at a nominal cost. Further inquiries should be directed to the Last Mountain area.

Eileen and Monty Cordingly, of the TV station were recently approached about the possibility of timekeeping at the upcoming races at Big White. Never having kept time before, they said... "OK" They are now expected to be on BW at 8 a.m. Sunday for a crash course on the art of recording elapsed time... and throughout the rest of the day.

JAMIE BROWN is up to his neck with the upcoming weekend of racing. Jamie is host to an invitational ski meet at BW this weekend between B and C racers from the surrounding district. The racing should be of good quality and worth the trip up the mountain if you haven't seen an honest-to-goodness ski race.

The Vernon Winter Carnival gets underway this weekend. Parade Saturday morning. Snowmobile races in the afternoon, and a host of ice-clad activities during the next week... buy a program.

CHBC, the local provider of entertainment for the eye boasts one of the largest staff of skiers in the fair city of Kelowna. Just some of the names that come to mind are Monty Cordingly, Dick Thomas, Henry Iritawa, Vic Pauls, and probably the largest of them all Russ Richardson, who I understand, may probably be viewed this weekend on the slopes of Big White. Ski You.

SKI POINTERS

A Butterfly Turn

By DAVE BREWER, Director Last Mountain Ski School

The skier who has learned to make parallel turns at will and with relative ease regardless of terrain, need not feel that he has reached his zenith, or that there is nothing else to be learned.

There are still vast undiscovered fields of joyous self-expression ahead, and many of these can fall nicely into the category of trick skiing. The particular usefulness of the various manoeuvres is that they put a skier into a situation which he might not otherwise experience except by accident, thereby preparing him for more advanced skiing and out of balance situations.

One of the simplest and most pleasurable tricks is the "butterfly turn." Here's how.

Start a fast traverse on medium terrain, lower the body in preparation and on rising to unweight start a strong rotary action of the feet, legs and upper body into the hill. Let the legs extend and remain extended so the skis describe a 180 degree turn. As you find yourself about to slide backwards continue to steer the skis as you thrust strongly behind and to the side with the uphill pole to aid in the turning of the skis.

For the final 180 degrees. Remember to remain fully extended throughout and of course practice makes perfect. Happy skiing.

WORLD CUP LEADERS

Austria's veteran, Karl Schranz, one of the few men to consistently beat French ski ace Jean-Claude Killy over the last three years, is hot on the trail to his first World Cup championship this year. If all goes well, that honor should be well within his reach when he competes in the du Maurier International. Member of a talented Austrian skiing family, Gertrude Gabl is currently leading all lady skiers in the World Cup series. She'll also be a strong contender to take the ladies' championship in the International at Mont Ste. Anne, Que., March 14-16.

Howe Pots Three Goals To Thrill Detroit Fans

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Boston Bruins' sensational string of success was finally come to an end but Gordie Howe just keeps rolling along for Detroit Red Wings.

Howe, 40, a National Hockey League star 20 years ago when many of the players he now competes against were in diapers, scored three goals Thursday night to lead Detroit to a 6-1 victory against Chicago Black Hawks.

The goals brought Howe's season total to 28 and moved him into a tie for second place in NHL scoring with Bobby Hull of Chicago at 69 points. He has scored 716 goals in regular-season play, far more than anyone in the league's history.

In other games, Montreal Canadiens downed Los Angeles Kings 4-2 and St. Louis Blues took Boston Bruins 3-1 to end the Bruins' unbeaten streak at 18 games.

Howe scored his first goal at 12:47 of the opening period to give Detroit a 2-0 lead. He skated around Chicago defencemen Matt Ravlich and lifted a shot over the shoulder of goaltender Dave Dryden.

At 4:22 c. the second period, Howe connected on a rebound from Alex Delvecchio, who gained four assists in the game. A crowd of 14,630 at the Olympia, accustomed as they are to Howe's greatness, gave the right wing a standing ovation and cluttered the ice with hats when he scored again at 7:43.

GORDIE HOWE... rolling along

SPOLLS A SHUTOUT

Other Detroit scorers were Bruce MacGregor, Dean Prentice and Frank Mahovlich, his 32nd. Ken Wharram scored at the end of the second period for the Black Hawks to ruin Roy Edwards' bid for a second consecutive shutout.

The victory moved the Red Wings three points ahead of Chicago and the idle Toronto Maple Leafs in the race for the fourth and final playoff position in the Eastern Division.

The Red Wings outshot the Black Hawks 43-17 and held Hull scoreless. It was the second consecutive walloping for Chicago, which lost 7-2 to Boston Wednesday night.

While Howe was the attraction for Detroit fans, Red Berenson continued to thrill St. Louis patrons.

The leading scorer in the Western Division, Berenson got two goals before 15,155 at St. Louis to pace the Blues to their victory. Bill McCrory picked up the other St. Louis goal and Glen Sather scored for the Bruins.

The loss for Boston ended the unbeaten streak which started Dec. 28 with a 6-2 triumph over the Blues.

SCORES 25TH GOAL

Berenson, who now has 25 goals, scored at 18:09 of the opening period on a pass from Camille Henry to knot the score at 1-1. At 3:44 of the second period, Berenson drilled in the winner after taking a pass from Ab McDonald.

The Blues outshot the Bruins, playing without five regulars including Bobby Orr, 46-19. Only a alert goaltender, Gerry Cheevers kept St. Louis from winning by a wider margin.

The triumph moved the Blues 20 points ahead of the runner-up Oakland Seals in the Western Division while Boston's lead over second-place Montreal in the Eastern Division was reduced to six.

All the scoring at Los Angeles came in the second period as the Canadiens redeemed themselves for a 5-1 loss at Oakland Wednesday night.

Montreal goals went to Dick Duff, Jean Beliveau, John Ferguson and Yvan Cournoyer. Eddie Joyal and Bob Wall shared the Kings' goals.

Goals by Cournoyer and Ferguson within 38 seconds of each other broke a 1-1 tie and put the Canadiens in front to stay.

A crowd of 11,102 watched the Canadiens win their third game this season without a loss to the Kings. Another game ended in a tie.

The Kings outshot the Canadiens 33-28, testing Montreal goalie Rogatien Vachon with 18 shots in the middle period.

Three-Game Suspension For Head Coach Lavell

Kelowna Buckaroos have managed to steer clear of injuries for their weekend trip to the coast but they will still be missing a most valuable figure.

Clayton Lavell, who stormed on to the ice in protest of a penalty in last week's game between Kelowna and Penticton, has been hit with a three-game suspension by the B.C. Junior Hockey League.

The suspension begins immediately.

Lavell charged on to the ice in the second period of the game, infuriated by a penalty to Kelowna's Larry Lenarduzzi. His players tried to restrain him but Lavell was intent on getting to referee Mike Durban.

Durban gave Lavell a game misconduct at the time. Lavell will miss Saturday's game against Victoria, Sunday's game against New Westminster and a Feb. 14 game against Penticton.

The Buckaroos are away from home this weekend, playing games in Victoria and New Westminster. If all goes well and other teams in the BCJHL co-operate, the Buckaroos could move into a tie for second place with Penticton.

Victoria took over top spot in the league Wednesday, beating New Westminster Royals 11-2.

Manager Scotty Angus is expected to assume the coaching role for the next three games while Lavell sits out his suspension. He handled coaching chores last week for the final period after Lavell was given the game misconduct.

Vince Sees Beban As Key To Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vince Lombardi is looking at 1967 Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban as the key to Washington Redskins' revival.

Lombardi arrived Thursday to take command of the Redskins after a decade of National Football League greatness at Green Bay and made Beban the focus of his first move.

Calling for complete movies of Beban's play as a rollout quarterback for UCLA, Lombardi promised a long off-season study to decide where to use Beban—with the strong possibility of turning him into a runner.

The move involved memories of 10 years ago when Lombardi arrived in Green Bay and took another Heisman Trophy quarterback off the bench to make him one of football's most celebrated ball carriers—Paul Hornung.

RUNNING WAS POOR Beban, unimpressive in his brief trial as a rookie pro quarterback last year, scored more touchdowns as a runner at UCLA than he did by passing. The Redskins were last in running yardage in the National Football League last fall.

Lombardi, who has never coached a loser, is taking over a team that hasn't had a winning season since 1955.

Eight Rinks In Running

KIMBERLEY, B.C. (CP) — Eight rinks, four of them undefeated, remained in contention Thursday night in the finals in the British Columbia Interior men's curling championships.

Frank Beutle of Penticton and Rod Carmichael of Fernie were eliminated from the double knockout contest Thursday night. Beutle went down 2-4 to Don Scherk of Prince Rupert, who has a 3-0 win-loss record. Carmichael lost 11-7 to veteran Roy Vinthers of Kamloops, who also brought his record to 3-0.

In other night games, defending champion Kevin Smale of Prince George (3-0) defeated Gord Robertson of Trail 9-4 and Eric Bisgrove of Kimberley (2-0 and a bye) dumped Emil Jurista of Kamloops 10-6.

In the first draw today, Scherk was to meet Vinthers, Dan Martel (1-1) of Kelowna faced Bisgrove, Robertson (2-1) met Buzz McGibney of Trail (1-1) and Jurista (1-1 and a bye) was drawn against Smale.

Ted Harris of Ladner, coast champion, meets the final winner Sunday in a best-of-three series to select B.C.'s representative for the Canadian championships in Oshawa, Ont., March 3-8.

Only Go Down Says Canadian

OAKLAND, Calif. (CP-AP) — "The only place for me to go is down, but I hope I don't," said Karen Magnusson of Vancouver as she prepared to try and wrap up the women's singles title tonight in the North American figure skating championships.

Canada and the United States each has 18 athletes competing. Five of the seven judges picked Miss Magnusson, a 16-year-old blonde, for first place after completion of the six compulsory school figures Thursday. Their scoring helped put Miss Magnusson at the top with a total of 1,029.1 points, but her lead over favored Janet Lynn, 15, of Rockford, Ill., was a small one. Miss Lynn, the tiny United States champion, had 1,015.5 points.

In the Canadian championships, Miss Magnusson had a slim six-point lead over Miss Carbonetto after the compulsory figures. Miss Magnusson and Miss Carbonetto are regarded as among the top free-skaters in the world and their performance leading to the winner tonight could be spectacular.

RULES WERE CHANGED
Under a change in the rules, the school figures counted for only 50 per cent in the scoring. Previously, it was 60 per cent. That means the free skating will account for half the points in the final judging.

Third and fourth after the school figures were Tiny Noyes and Julie Holmes of Colorado Springs, Colo. Miss Noyes had 990.8 points, Miss Holmes 885.5. Cathy Irwin, 16, of Willowdale, Ont., was sixth with 830.8. Tim Wood of Detroit was favored over Jay Humphry of Toronto, Canadian champion the last two years, as the men's singles opened today with compulsory figures. Men's free skating is scheduled Saturday night.

RANKED SECOND, THIRD
— Going into tonight's final free skating in pairs, the U.S. teams of Kenneth Shelley and JoJo Starbuck of Los Angeles and Mark and Melissa Militano of New York, ranked second and third respectively with 74.1 and 70.7 points.

The Militanos had fewer points than Sandra and Val Bezic of Toronto, who were fourth, but the Americans were placed third because they ranked higher in the individual judge's placings.

The Bezics, brother and sister, scored 71.5 points. Sandra at 12 is the youngest skater at the championships. Val is 16. The Canadian pairs champions, Rick Stephens and Anna Forder of Port Perry, Ont., were fifth with 70.1 and Mary and Robert McAvoy of Toronto were sixth with 67.4.

Dancing, with U.S. champions James Sladky of Rochester, N.Y., and Judy Schowomeyer of Indianapolis leading with 111.6 points after compulsory dances, continues tonight with original dances.

TORONTO PAIR SECOND
Dancing winds up Saturday night with free dance. The Canadian champions, Bruce Lennie of Weston, Ont., and Donna Taylor of Toronto, were second with 108.5 points.

Third were Mary Church of Toronto and Tom Falls of St. Catharines, Ont., with 104.8 and sixth were Hazel Pike of Toronto and Phillip Boskill of St. Catharines with 98.

How competitors finish in these championships has no bearing on the world finals Feb. 25-March 1 in Colorado Springs since entries from each country already have been selected. No team scores are kept. The seven judges score a maximum of six points after each performance. But after all six entries in each class have run through their routines, the judges award places, which counts more in the over-all standings.

College, Hockey Don't Mix For Canadian Professionals

By LORNE BRUCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Thirty years ago, a graduate of McMaster University was picked as a first-team all-star in the National Hockey League.

Syl Apps won the honor in 1939, and again three years later, as the centre for Gordie Drillon and Bob Davidson on the line that made Toronto Maple Leafs a Stanley Cup contender. His academic background seemed barely worth mentioning.

As it happened, Apps was the only college-bred player ever to achieve all-star ranking.

Professional hockey's attitude toward the halls of learning in subsequent years was illustrated in 1956, when the Leafs peddled Eric Nesterenko to Chicago Black Hawks. One of their complaints was that the young right winger insisted on studying part-time at McMaster University.

SWING PREDICTED
Ed Zemrau, director of athletics at the University of Alberta, says the swing today is in the other direction and predicts that a "far, far greater number" of players with university degrees will make the NHL.

A 34-year-old Denver University graduate who played a bit of minor pro hockey in the Chicago organization, Zemrau says a growing number of youngsters feel they can provide for their future by combining education with an NHL career.

Among current examples are Red Berenson, a 20-goal man two years running with St. Louis Blues from the University of Michigan and Tony Esposito, Montreal Canadiens' agile rookie goaltender from Michigan Tech.

More than 30 others from campuses in the United States and Canada attended NHL training camps last summer. Most are sprinkled through the minors or back at school. Many will be back.

LACKED STANDING
Zemrau, whose Alberta Golden Bears won the Canadian intercollegiate title last spring, says the majority of Edmonton-area players attending United States athletic scholarships either couldn't make his team or lacked the academic standing to attend a Canadian university.

He would like to see a scholarship program in Canada, but not on the American scale. Apart from financial considerations, Canadian universities would not be interested in all-out recruiting of athletes.

"We don't want them to get into the position where athletics overshadows education, which is the prime reason for their being here."

And further behind were J. Nicklaus, 72-71-143, and three-time defending champion Arnold Palmer, 72-73-145.

George Knudson of Toronto was the top Canadian with 72-143. Al Balding, also of Toronto, had 77-71-148.

The marathon tournament ends Sunday. To some, it will be a blessing if the end comes soon.

The missing sign disappeared sometime Thursday from press tent at Indian Wells Country Club.

It was probably when the winds were almost whipping new flaps off the tent, the lightness of the top, like new, was rocking above and the structure might take off.

No one really wanted to go outside, however, because it was raining heavily. This weather began early in the morning, stopped briefly, then returned.

Funseth Leads Bob Hope Golf

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Scrawled in chalk on a board in the press tent was a message:

Weather perfect. Temperatures 80.

Both board and message were gone today as the 90-hole Bob Hope desert golf classic ventured—perhaps perilously—into the third round.

Leading the way was R. Funseth, with a 36-hole score of 69-66-135, nine shots under par.

One stroke back was National Open champion Lee Trevi, 67-69-136. Bill Casper had 68-139.

And further behind were J. Nicklaus, 72-71-143, and three-time defending champion Arnold Palmer, 72-73-145.

Hurtful Strike Grips Ireland

DUBLIN (Reuters) — Housewives went on a buying spree today as a strike by maintenance men paralysed Irish industry for the second day.

Supermarkets in Dublin and other large towns reported record sales of flour and canned foodstuffs as pickets blocked production at bakeries and canned food factories.

More than 50,000 workers in about 200 Irish firms went on strike to support pay increases for 1,500 maintenance plumbers, fitters and electricians.

The maintenance men's strike could prove the most serious and damaging in the country's history. The vital export trade has been hit badly, factories producing export carpets, textiles, processed meat and other foodstuffs are closed down.

PLANS DEVELOPMENT

TORONTO (CP) — Developer Harry Jordan has plans to hire the hippies out of Toronto's Yorkville Village. Jordan, a Toronto accountant, called a meeting to get support from the villagers for a zoning change to permit construction of his planned 21-storey apartment hotel in Yorkville. He said the hotel offered the "best chance" to correct the village's chronic problems, presumably hippies.

Rutland C of C All Ready For Installation Of Officers

RUTLAND — The executive of the Rutland Chamber of Commerce met at the home of the president, Alan Patterson Monday and made final arrangements for the 21st annual installation of officers, to be held in the Rutland Community Centre Feb. 21. There will be a social half hour at 6:30, dinner at 7 p.m., to be followed by the installation of the officers. Guest speaker will be Bruce Winspy of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce.

Dancing will follow from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets will be available from all executive members, and at a number of Rutland business premises.

Directors M. W. Marshall and George Whittaker of Regional districts C and I, and Forrest Chase, operator of the rural garbage collection service, who was also present, advised the meeting that arrangements had been made to use the city of Kelowna disposal area. It will no longer be necessary to use the temporary disposal area on the Belgo. The executive of the chamber voted its support of the efforts being made by the regional district to find a solution to the problem for the seven areas concerned.

The Rutland chamber will urge residents to take advantage of the garbage service provided and co-operate in curbing the dumping of garbage in gullies and roadsides.

The Rutland branch of the Okanagan Valley Union Library reported one of its busiest months in January, and the meeting voted to supply additional desk space.

The Rutland Teen Town advised that they would assist with the installation of house numbers when these are made available and when the weather conditions improve. This chamber project will assist residents in many ways, including emergency services such as fire, ambulance and doctors, and the co-operation of all residents is hoped for when the plan gets under way. Miss Virginia Husch ("Miss Rutland") will represent the community at the Vernon Winter Carnival festivities being held this week, and will participate in the parade on Saturday along with other visiting royalty.

Losses On Highway Hit Peak In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Insurance Information Institute says the economic loss in traffic accidents in the United States reached a record high of just under $13,000,000,000 in the first 11 months of 1968. The previous high of $12,400,000,000 was for the entire year of 1967. The institute said the loss figures include lost wages, medical expenses, property damage and the service cost of insurance.

NAME CONFUSED

NEW DELHI (AP) — Ronald C. Heath complained to telephone officialdom that his name was spelled Heat in the directory. It was changed in the new edition—this time to Health.
